

Title: _____ for Christmas

VERB ENDING IN -ING

Our movie's beautiful leading lady, Holly, is portrayed by _____. She is an up-and-coming executive at a Manhattan company that sells Christmas _____. Shortly before the holiday, there is a crisis involving customers in the rural town of _____. The company's boss chooses Holly instead of her workplace rival, Ivy, to solve the problem before Christmas Eve.

FEMALE '90S SITCOM STAR

KITCHEN UTENSILS

A FARM ANIMAL

A BODY PART

She is elated to get this opportunity, but disappointed she must skip her vacation in _____ with her fiancé. He is a vice president at their company and has been engaged to Holly for _____ years. At first glance, he seems perfect for her, but Holly tells a workplace confidant she has doubts about _____ him because he hates Christmas, her favorite holiday.

A PLACE

A NUMBER

VERB ENDING IN -ING

Duty-bound, our heroine rushes to the small town, arriving during the annual Christmas parade, which features Santa and his trusty, red-nosed _____, Rudolph. In her haste to get to the town, however, Holly forgot to pack extra _____.

ANIMAL

ARTICLES OF CLOTHING

What she's wearing is ruined when two parade spectators spill _____ on her as she bumps into a handsome man wearing the most festive _____ she's ever seen.

A FOOD

SINGLE ARTICLE OF CLOTHING

Holly and the small-town hunk, portrayed by an unknown actor from _____, have undeniable romantic chemistry.

A COUNTRY

She can't stop gazing into his _____ eyes. Also, he loves Christmas. Although tempted, she resists acting on her feelings because she is engaged. While disappointed, the hunk helps Holly solve the crisis, which is accomplished by _____ the parade Santa, who is also the mayor and is portrayed by _____.

A COLOR

VERB ENDING IN -ING

FORMER TV SITCOM DAD

Together, they discover her fiancé has hatched a plot to seize control of the company. Heroine Holly phones him and discovers he's at a vacation resort in far-off _____ with office rival Ivy. Angered and hurt, she calls off the engagement. When he starts to argue, the resort's wait staff accidentally drops _____ gallons of _____ on the cad and his secret girlfriend.

A PLACE

A NUMBER

A DRINK

Now it's Christmas Eve, and at last our leading lady has new clothes. It's time for her to return to work in the big city, where she's getting a promotion: She will be the new vice president in charge of _____. She bids farewell to her new small-town friends.

A CHORE

"_____" she says. "This is harder than I expected." Then the small-town hunk asks her to stay and marry him. Perhaps they can start their own company selling _____ to the locals.

AN EXCLAMATION

KITCHEN UTENSILS

As snow begins to fall and Christmas church bells ring, she says yes and _____ him on the lips.

VERB — PRESENT TENSE